

SAPHYA MONET COUNCIL

Room 2606 Bafang Mansion, 1589 Zhangyang Rd, Pudong, Shanghai
smc737@nyu.edu

EDUCATION

---

New York University Shanghai, Pudong, Shanghai, China – May 2017

Bachelor of Science, Overall GPA: 3.53/4.0

Major: Interactive Media Arts, GPA: 3.84/4.0

Minor: Chinese, GPA: 3.33/4.0

Relevant Coursework: Sound Design for Media, Animation and Dynamic Surfaces, Recording Technology

Awards: Dean's Service Scholar Winter 2015

HIGHLIGHTS

---

- Able to handle confidential information and work in a professional manner even in the presence of music and film professionals such as rapper K.Flay and Director Boo JiYoung
- Excels in clerical work but is open to doing fieldwork if the job calls for it
- Very reliable and able to work independently by finding tasks to keep occupied and reaching out to superiors for other projects
- Capable of public speaking and making product pitches
- Communicates in English and Chinese on a number of occasions to ensure a full understanding of the task at hand
- Can read, write, speak and comprehend Mandarin
- Friendly, upbeat, and positive
- Experience in sales and customer service
- Quick learner who can work efficiently at rapid pace with a deadline

WORK EXPERIENCE

---

ICP Learning Assistant Spring 2017

- Support Intro to Computer Programming professors during lectures and recitation
- Hold weekly office hours advising Computer Science students on Python essentials

Studio Technician/Assistant September 2016 – present

- Act as a technical advisor to expat artist in Shanghai

IMA (Interactive Media Arts) Lab Student Worker Spring 2015 & Fall 2016

- Provided support to IMA professors by preparing the necessary tools for lab
- Edited and narrated tutorial videos for any IMA equipment to then post on the class site
- Took inventory and updated the IMA equipment database
- Monitored the lab and organized the room in time for lab closing
- Served as a moderator for special events hosted by IMA, e.g. Barcamp '15 – a fun, user-generated tech conference

Urban Legends Project Creative Assistant Summer 2016

- Translated Mandarin Chinese movie scripts into English
- Assisted Taiwanese short film director in coming up with original horror film plots

WNYU Radio Show Host/Disc Jockey October 2015 – April 2016

- Came up with an original idea for a music show and composed weekly playlists to then play live on .org radio
- Used studio equipment to transition between talking (backtracking, reading PSAs, etc.) and playing tracks

Korean Studies Graphic Design Intern Summer 2015

- Designed flyers, postcards, banners and other promotional materials for upcoming programs
- Edited videos to then post on department site
- Hosted domestic and international guests to ensure time spent at/with The Korea Society is above satisfactory

SKILLS

---

Extensive experience with Microsoft Office Suite, Adobe Creative Suite, Processing, Arduino, HTML/CSS, Javascript

General knowledge of openFrameworks, Java, MAX/MSP, Arduino, Protools, Reason, Python, Blender, Unity, C#

Native English speaker, Advanced Chinese (Mandarin)